

Bunnings Campbelltown BBQ Fund Raiser and Fathers Day Expo July 13 and August 29

It was the classic win-win situation. Bunnings Campbelltown have been good to us for our fund-raising BBQ (to raise funds for your full-colour magazine) and we provided them with a display of classic cars for their Fathers Day expo.

Ashleigh Clarke, the (new) Activities Organiser at Bunnings Campbelltown, could not have been more helpful in the lead-up to our BBQ; nothing was too much problem for her.

The day itself proved to be perfect - not too cold and certainly (being July) definitely not too hot for those on cooking duties.

The early start attracted a hardy band of volunteers which was soon added to as the day went on. Of special mention was non-member Liam, grandson of Sue and Graeme Gould, who had a go at every job on the day and passed each of them with flying colours. Thanks Liam - don't hesitate to volunteer again.

The hot seat - Stuart Treuer (above) and Graeme Gould

Customer traffic was steady all day, resulting in a very respectable profit of $1030.80. This money will go a long way to making your magazine look better.

Those who helped on the day were Graeme & Sue Gould and Liam, Scott

Colourful line-up at the BBQ fund raiser

(L to R) David Bursill, Brian Condon, Fay Cullen, Graeme Gould, Terry Cullen, Bob Gilliland

Barraclough, Jim Bowen, David Bursill, Brian Condon, Fay Cullen, Bob Gilliland, Vince Holloway, Ray Selby, Owen Sinden, Stuart Treuer and Les Whale. We also had eight Morries on show, much to the delight of the passing/paying public. Terry Cullen was an apology due to illness.

We were not so lucky with the Fathers Day expo on Thursday 29 August. Rain had been predicted, so our highly polished machinery didn't return home in pristine condition. Luckily, we were parked under an overpass (!) so Bunnings customers were still able to have a look.

Unfortunately, much of the entertainment was understandably moved inside due to the inclement weather so there wasn't as much interest in our cars as last year. Congratulations to Ashleigh

A very pleased Bunnings Activity Organiser, Ashleigh Clarke, with Bob Gilliland, Graeme Gould and Terry Cullen

A happy future-Morrie owner enjoys Les' car

Clarke for the success of her first major enterprise as Activities Organiser.

Still, the MMCCNSW and Bunnings collaboration is still going strong, a win-win for both of us.

Words: Owen Sinden

Photos: Les Whale and Owen Sinden