

ADVENTURE BEFORE DEMENTIA

(Sir) Rom's Caption Competition

Just what are Keith Cosgrove and Ray Selby up to? Here's the replies...

Ray: Ooooh, there's an engine in there - so it can't be a VW Beetle.

Ray: Hey, it's blue under here too.

Ray: That bonnet stay goes all the way to the ground!

Ray: Electrical tape is OK for your headlights, Keith, but not great to patch your exhaust.

Ray: That's not an oil leak - it's an oil field!

Ray: If you want to go fast, good brakes are only gonna to slow you down, right?!?

Ray: You do know that red cars go faster, don't you...

Ray: The next time you want your wheel alignment checked, just book it in at my workshop.

Ray: In some countries this means we're engaged.

Ray: That's a hell of a spot for the radio, Keith.

Ray: You know that policeman who tried to stop you? I think I found him...

Ray: Keith, here's that 3/4" socket you lost.

Ray: Hmm, two possums and a wombat under here, that'll make a good stew!

Ray: There's your problem, Keith - you've put the engine in east-west!!!

Keith: Ray, do you know anything about suspension?

Sir Rom: Smile for the camera, boys!

Right: The classiest suburb in Melbourne is Toorak, and a classy place to stay in Toorak is Toorak Manor. It is a Victorian mansion built in the 1880s. On closer inspection, it was surprising to see the original name of the building... 'Graeme'. Needless to say, Mr President was thrilled to hear such news. "They even spelt it correctly!"

Below: A sign of the times.

Merry Christmas and happy new year!
Cheers,
(Sir) Rom
