

Finally Escaping After the Lockdown - Nov 2021

You don't know when you may spot a Morris Minor in your travels. On our recent caravan trip to Jindabyne, Sue and I stopped off at Tumut for a few days after being able to travel for the first time after lockdown. It was so good to be able to get away in the caravan again.

Driving up the main street of Tumut, a Morris Minor was spotted just outside a café called the 'The Coach House Kitchen'. Being time for coffee it was a good reason to stop and find out some details of the Morris.

The vehicle is owned by the proprietor of the café and she was very keen to talk about her pride and joy. It is a 1957 2 door which is in the process of being fully restored and will include being resprayed back to its original colour of Camden Cream.

Graeme and the Coach House Kitchen Morris, Tumut

After our stay in Tumut, we headed off for a week Caravan Club stay in Jindabyne, catching up with fellow Morris Minor Club members Sue and John Ballard from Dubbo (see photo of our funny) who we haven't seen since February this year.

During our stay we headed off to the Kosciuszko National Park, visiting several places including Charlotte Pass, where we encountered unbelievable weather as can be seen by the photo of our real car in the snow.

Graeme Gould

One for the Gould & Ballard family albums: 'Christmas Hat Happy Hour'

fr-fr-freezig at Charlotte Pass