

All British Day 2022, Brisbane

As the Sydney All British Day was cancelled, we took the opportunity to go to the All British Day in Brisbane on September 18, 2022.

On a glorious Sunday morning in Brisbane we made our way to St Joseph's College Sports Ground at Tennyson on the south bank of the Brisbane River. There was easy parking on site and a very reasonable $5.00 entrance fee to cover parking and entry for the driver and passenger.

Spread over two sports fields were more than 600 cars making for an impressive display of British cars. Our first stop was the Morris Minor Club (of course!) where there were 17 Morris Minors gleaming in the bright sunshine.

The number of different types of British cars at the show was outstanding. There were all types of cars from Minis to Aston Martins and everything in between.

There was commentary over the PA system with people from various car clubs giving information about the cars. We are still chuckling over someone from the Mini Car Club describe the Minis that took out the top nine places at the Bathurst car race in 1966 as 'Super Cars'.

We spent a number of hours admiring the cars and having a picnic lunch under the trees before making our way home after a wonderful day.
