

Minor Minis...

Morris Minor Restoration Special

Frank Maatouk sent an email about the restoration he performed on a Morris Minor - check out the links and video and you'll agree the workmanship is second to none.

Email: maatoukf@yahoo.com.au

Morris Minor - Inhim Classic Car Restorations \(inhimclassiccars.com.au\)

1957 Morris Minor 1000 Full Restoration - YouTube

Regular contributor Martin Robins emailed this from England...

"Good day,
A Morris Minor in a delightful setting
Regards
Martin Robins"

That 'delightful setting' is at the rear of Stockleigh Court, in Stockleigh English, just north of Crediton, Devon, UK

Another issue of Minor Torque, another new contributor (or two). On a 10-week caravanning tour of much of eastern Australia, Philip and Vicki Berkhout visited Malanda, in the beautiful Atherton Tablelands in Queensland, up near Cairns. No prizes for guessing what they saw - a very good condition Morris Minor 1000. Thanks P&V

No, not a Morris Minor, more like a 1902 Oldsmobile (surely the oldest vehicle ever to grace the pages of Minor Torque), owned and sent in by yet another new contributor, no less than the Chairman of the Cornwall Morris Minor Club, John Hough. John and I have been in fairly constant communication for months and met up for a chat and a pint (or two), with his son Paul, while in Cornwall about a month ago. Read more about the meeting, and other fun, in 'Editor at Large.'

From John Ballard: Here are a couple of photos from a mate travelling in the UK. This where Heartbeat was filmed, including 'Scripps Garage' - note Morris Minor parts on the shelf. Ed: Heartbeat was/is filmed in Goathland, North Yorkshire. Indra and I visited there too. The train station at Goathland also 'starred' as Hogwarts Station in the Harry Potter movies.

